

What are the recurring political fault-lines?

- scale/quantum - too many/too few
- composition of migration - selection
- congestion effects - school places, housing, jobs - competition
- capacity to manage (successfully) - competence/normal performance issue
- cultural threats - security and identity

